

Modern Slavery Act 2015

Comfort Building Services Limited (the “Company”) does not permit the use of child, forced, indentured or involuntary labour in any of its operations. The Company understands the principles of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and does not, nor will in the future, support or do business knowingly with any other party involved in any act of slavery or human trafficking, as defined in the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

All staff employed by the Company are checked on their eligibility to work in the UK and are paid at the correct commercial rate for their trade. The Company ensures that young members of staff (apprentices, etc.) are only permitted to work alongside fully qualified engineers in order to learn their trade and are under regular review with their training provider, engineering supervisor and service manager.

Ms N J Moroncini - Director
20th January 2021